Lack of awareness about sanitary napkins is a huge health hazard in India. Sanitary Napkins should not be a choice. It should be a right for girls. It's not a taboo.

Current data reveals that –

- 312,4 million women don't get sanitary pads.
- 120 million girls experience menstrual dysfunctions.
- 23 million girls drop out of school annually because they don't have period protection.

'Hamara Prayaas' project undertaken by RKK is a means to provide all underprivileged women a life which is free from whisper and fear. RKKians are sensitized towards this issue. They make sanitary napkins to bring a difference in the life of all underprivileged women. In this drive, Mrs. Jayshree with her team of two ladies went to a village "Judgaon", 40 km away from Jodhpur city on Saturday, 16th April 2022.
