Another Commendable ladder of Achievement

RKK belongs to the elite IPSC body comprising 80 like-minded, Legacy Schools and Sainik or Military Schools of India. This IPSC body has an Executive Committee comprising 9 members. There are two Executive Committee Members from Private Schools and two from Sainik or Military Schools. For any School Principal / Head it is a matter of great pride and honor to be a part of the IPSC Executive Committee. This year at the 82nd Annual General Meet held on 8th to 10th January 2022, Mrs Neera Singh, Principal of RKK has been selected to be a part of this Executive Committee. She is the only Woman Executive Member which adds volumes to this moment of pride.

This has put the school in the highest league amongst these elite 80 schools. The kind of exposure RKKians get and will get through IPSC is unimaginable. This success by the Principal has been credited to her students participating in various events, activities and competitions, hosting of events every year since receiving its membership, assistance of a strong team of educators and unrelenting support of the Royal Family and Board of Governors at all times.

For convenience small breakout – Barraza rooms were made so that every participant can interact and conveniently shares his/her point of view with other school students.

Keynote Speaker, Ms. Kaveri Mukherjee provided the delegation with suggestions and solutions to reduce reuse and recycle from own fabrics in use and not to get into blind race of fashion industry. She also enlightened the participants with amazing information that Global production of clothing and its consumption has increased in the last fifty years. With time, clothing has gained more importance as people associate every occasion, mood, season and status with clothing. It has become a way of making an impression and non-verbal communication. Textile is the second biggest polluting industry. The average life span of a garment is roughly three years, and so, textile industry generates a huge amount of waste. Five per cent of all global landfills is being taken up by dumped textile waste. It was an amazing learning experience.

“Never stop learning, for when we stop learning, we stop growing.” ~Loyal 'Jack' Lewman

“We must teach our children to dream with their eyes open and debating is the best way to do it.”

An online debating event for the students across the globe, e-SAI Global Debate-2022 was organized by SAI International School, Bhubaneswar on 29th January 2022. Inside every child is a rainbow waiting to shine. So, in order to inculcate debating skills, this opportunity was grabbed by our budding debaters to brush up their oral skills and encourage their flair for debating and debate with the students from different parts of the world.

The debates were to be on three different debating formats mentioned below :

- 1.General Debate
- 2.Turncoat
- 3.Extempore

The broad themes for Debate and Turncoat were :

- 1.Cyber Security-is it a necessity for today's youth
- 2.Inclusion of Artificial Intelligence and Machine learning in the school curriculum.
- 3.Climate change and its global impact.

After a month's long, daily online practise schedules, the team of RKK had reformed into a polished set of debaters. Listening to the participants' debates, turncoats and extempore with vigour, zeal , confidence and enthusiasm was a treat to the visual eyes and the ears. Preparing the students for 'Rebuttal' was another knowledge gaining experience where logic and currents affairs were discussed. Finally on the D day the students delivered their best and the entire team qualified for the finals which was a moment of great honour and pride for the school. Competing with elite national and international schools and fierce debaters is not a mean task but students of RKK participated with sheer grit and hard work and brought laurels to them, to school and their family. Aarohi Bhattacharjee won the first prize in Turncoat and Bhavi Kumbhat won the Second prize in Argumentative Debate. This added another achievements to RKK's data of participation and winning.

On 29th January 2022, the first day of the Indiation started with a few ice breaking games which was followed by a virtual journey through India watching the different monuments of India and the states to which they belong. This was followed by an activity in which the participants were asked to create a New National Symbol which brought out their creativity and made them think outside the box. Then, there was a Poster Making activity on the theme, 'Protecting Monuments.' The last activity of the day was 'Shabdkosh' in which students were supposed to say the English meaning of the Hindi words asked to them by their group leader. The first day of the conference was very fun-filled and enlightening. It energised all for the rest of the event.

On the day two, there was a Utopian Parliament with the students assigned with different ministries and their shadows. The agenda was 'Safeguarding the lives and interest of frontline workers'. Hence, participants were needed to find out a solution to save the lives and interest of frontline workers in the way, a particular ministry can. Budding speakers got a chance here to improve their public speaking. Gaurav Singh Deora won the award for the 'Best Minister', award for 'Commendable Minister' was bagged by Vinaaya Atri, 'Brilliant Ideator' was awarded to Garvit Jalutharia and 'Superb Speaker' was awarded to Shravya K Manoj. The last activity was the Jigyasa Quiz. The quiz was full of knowledge about India. Garvit Jalutharia was proud recipient of 2nd position in Quiz.

The two day event represented by Manvi Gehlot, Pankhuri Sharma from Class VI and Sunheri Birla, Suhani Birla from Class VIII on 29th & 30th January 2022 was very fascinating, delightful with its topic being 'A Salute to India's Fallen Heroes'. Delegates learnt many new things and activities. It improved their communication skills with others and they got to know about Indian Parliament and India.

The competition had three events Amazing Indian Race, Utopian Parliament, Indian-Jigyasa Quiz. The Treasure Hunt online had seven rounds in which the students need to answer some multiple choice questions, answer in one word, design new national symbols with imagination and also designed a product which could help our mother India to throw away Covid 19. The teams of Manvi Gehlot and Pankhuri bagged 1st position and the team of Suhani Birla bagged 2nd position in designing New National Symbols. Later that afternoon it was followed up by Jigyasa Quiz. Manvi Gehlot was ranked 4th in the whole community and was appreciated for her knowledge.

On the day two, there was a Utopian Parliament with the students assigned with different ministries and their shadows. The agenda was 'Safeguarding the lives and interest of frontline workers'. Hence, participants were needed to find out a solution to save the lives and interest of frontline workers in the way, a particular ministry can. Budding speakers got a chance here to improve their public speaking. The ruling party comprising two students of RKK Pankhuri and Suhani won the session. The trainer appreciated the research work, full of ideas, of Suhani, that a Sports Minister can imply. Overall, the event was full of joy and excitement in which students implied their imagination, creativity, learnt about the Great Indian Empire and about the sacrifices of our front liners who breathlessly worked during the lockdown to fight with corona virus.

First Steps School of Arts & Sciences, Faisalabad, Punjab, Pakistan (Symposium)

A team consisting of three RKKians, Lakshita Singh Ranawat, Amishi Shukla and Hemangini Bhati with their Teacher Incharge Mr Girish Vyas, took part in the First Steps Symposium on Social Enterprise hosted by the First Steps School of Arts & Sciences, Faisalabad, Punjab, Pakistan on 29th & 30th January 2022. The theme of the event revolved around bringing change in our world through setting up social enterprises, solely based from the ideas and drive of the students participating. The two-day event brought about many revelations in how each one of us view present day problems that seem not to have any solutions. It was also highlighted that how much of a difference, youth can potentially make even while sitting in front of screens. The Keynote Speaker, Ms Hira Warjahat, planned an interactive session with all the budding entrepreneurs. SET was a topic that was discussed about and dissected what it meant. Sustainability, Entrepreneurship and Technology have the potential of changing the world and the society. Ecstatic to find out that people do not have to leave behind everything to make a noticeable change in the environment for the better, delegates were separated into barazza groups. Overflowing with ideas, there were fiery discussions with some ice breaking questions, that brought a smile on the faces of the students. On the second day, each school had to present a business model that would help a cause. There were phenomenal ideas coming from all the schools. Some of the exceptional ideas were the Organic Spa, the manufacturing of Plastic Bricks, Milk Waste Management and many more. RKK team put forward a social enterprise which promoted Urban Gardens, where we would use the help of community service and set up an establishment in urban areas that would offer organic produce, strictly, many are starting to look at waste in a new way. Composting today is no longer a method of disposal in rural areas. It is fast becoming a common way to manage waste and produce a usable product, creating a viable business opportunity. Your customers could be landscaping companies as well as fellow urban farmers. Beyond selling simply farm produce, you can also venture into value-added products. By transforming the raw farm products into food, personal care, craft products and more. Value added products can help boost your income and expand the market season.

Urban farming requires constant creativity and problem-solving but with a little creativity, you can transform any empty space into a farm of profit generation and local community harmony.
